

“Reclaiming the Commercial Strip” & “Creating Transit Friendly Communities”

Join us on January 29, 2009 as Randall Arendt presents his new seminar “Reclaiming the Commercial Strip”. The seminar addresses the aging building stock along commercial corridors and how to effectively take advantage of redevelopment opportunities.

Presentations and a panel of experts, local planners and firms will convene immediately following Randall Arendt to discuss the ongoing efforts across the region to develop thriving commuter rail stations and associated redevelopment. The panel will also focus on the tools and steps to make redevelopment plans a reality by implementing appropriate Floor Area Ratios, densities and roadway design.
